CHAPTER ONE

1.0 INTRODUCTION

1.1 The University

Elizade University is positioned as a citadel of excellence in the delivery of quality University education in Nigeria. The University represents the crowning effort of the Elizade Ojo Educational Foundation (EOEF) and its Board of Trustees to contribute to the growth and development of education in Nigeria. A University, being the apex of the educational system, presents the best medium for affecting society in the most significant manner by training men and women leaders, entrepreneurs, managers, professionals, and future Chief Executives. The goal of the Elizade Ojo Educational Foundation in setting up the University was to further accentuate the objectives of the National Policy on Education which guarantees equal access to education for all Nigerians and as well ensures that education meets the needs of the individual and the nation's quest for development.

1.2 Historical Background

Sustainable development and the resolution of the multi-faceted problems and challenges of human societies can only be achieved through the provision of functional higher education geared towards the production of the required/needed critical mass of human capital that would be the drivers of the societal development process.

In the new and knowledge-driven society in which we find ourselves, natural endowments are no longer the measure of a nation's prosperity and growth but the quality and quantum of the available human resources. The non-availability of skilled manpower is often responsible for the gaps between rich and poor nations and socio-economic development and economic status of citizens. This further deepens the disparities in educational opportunities and socio-economic well-being among social, political and religious groups within the country.

The indigenes of Ilara-Mokin have suffered some social and economic marginalisation over the years largely because of the prevailing high rate of illiteracy. The underdevelopment of the town was a major worry for Chief Michael Ade Ojo, OON, Chairman, Elizade Ojo Educational Foundation (Proprietor of Elizade University) and his late wife, Chief (Mrs.) Wuraola Elizabeth Ade Ojo and have decided to positively improve the educational standing of the town by establishing a higher educational institution with world class teaching/learning facilities in Ilara-Mokin. This is with a view to providing education and needed skill acquisition for the empowerment, upliftment and emancipation of the indigenes and Nigerians in general.

This initial idea of setting up an international secondary school was based on the disturbing dearth of skilled man power including technicians and artisans. These shortages have led to sourcing for competent technicians from neighbouring West African countries and while the army of uneducated and unskilled youth parade the streets of many Nigerian cities. The technical positions and jobs requiring advanced skills in industries, private establishments and even homes remain unfilled and this unsavoury state of affairs has been a source of great concern to Chief Michael Ade. Ojo, OON especially given his vast experience in the automobile business where the problem of shortage of competent man power to handle modern cars is very glaring. This encouraged him, and his late wife, to propose the establishment of Elizade Polytechnic for the purpose of skills acquisition where technical and entrepreneurial skills would be imparted to youths from Nigeria and beyond.

The decision to establish Elizade University rather than a polytechnic was borne out of the desire to provide the highest level of training in sciences, engineering and technology to the teeming population of Nigerian youths.

Elizade University aims to be a citadel of learning comparable to the best University in the world in the teaching of Science, Engineering and Liberal Arts. The University shall offer programmes mainly in the Sciences and Technology and with opportunity for a top-grade education in the Arts (Languages, Performing Arts and Music) as well as in Management Studies. The University will emphasise research, development and community service.

1.3 The Vision

Elizade University seeks to be a globally competitive institution that produces entrepreneurial, innovative and ethical graduates.

1.4 The Mission

- ii. To ensure appropriate industrial and commercial inputs in its formal education and training by forging a dynamic link with industry and commerce through the involvement of captains of industries and commerce in training and research programmes;
- iii. To produce graduates that could compete favourably with their peers internationally;
- iv. To create and expand access and opportunities for education for physically challenged students; and attract and retain quality students, researchers, and

- teachers, thereby assisting in developing human capital and mitigating the brain drain currently afflicting Nigeria;
- v. To encourage and promote the advancement of learning and hold out to all persons without distinction of race, creed, sex, religious or political conviction the opportunity to acquire University education;
 - vi. To play a critical role in the development and incubation of engineering and technology knowledge and in the dissemination of that knowledge;
 - vii. To carry out basic and applied research leading to the domestication and application of new technology to the Nigerian context through collaborative linkages with other academic and research institutions in Africa and the rest of the world;
 - viii. To establish a centre for entrepreneurial studies to stimulate job creation and innovative abilities in students from onset of their studies, in such a way that graduates shall be resourceful, self-reliant and job creators;
 - ix. To attempt to reverse the craze for overseas studies by Nigerian youths by providing world standard facilities in terms of human and physical structures for students;
 - x. To undertake other activities appropriate for teaching, research and community service as expected of a University of high standard.

1.7 Logo

The logo of the Elizade University consists of the following features:

CHAPTER THREE

3.0 ACADEMIC MATTERS

3.1 Being a Student

It is commonly known that a University is an institution of learning. It can also be conceived as a 'Community of Scholars' who are in different faculties but share the same values. Every student of Elizade University, right from the point of admission is encouraged to see himself/herself as a part of this community. Accordingly, he or she is motivated to pursue his/her studies independently. The University will provide the appropriate learning opportunities, timely advice, guidance and feedback. It is, however, left for individual student to explore such opportunities to achieve excellent result.

Although Elizade University will always organize an orientation programme for the freshers, one critical point that needs to be stressed from the onset is the need for each student to stay informed. Since Elizade University is ICT driven, most information will be sent to the students through the internet. It is, therefore, important for each student to check his/her University E-mail box at least once a day. Your lecturers and Course Advisers will also interact with you through the internet. When sending a message to a member of staff, it is important for you to adhere to the conventions of polite and professional communication.

Begin your message with 'Dear Professor or Dr. so and so and finish it with your full name. E-mail is not text-messaging you share, therefore avoid the abbreviations that are common for mobile phones. It is important to note that the University and the members of staff will NOT send messages to a private email account of the student. All official communications will be done through the University email account.

In addition, information will be pasted, from time to time, on the notice boards in the lobby of the Faculty Building and the hostels, either as a back up to the email messages or due to the nature of the information to be passed across, such as the examination time table. Students are encouraged to read them carefully and act accordingly and promptly.

Finally, not all information can be passed to the students or their parents through the internet. Some letters will have to be posted or sent through courier service. All students should therefore, report all changes in their postal or residential addresses to the Faculty Office immediately.

3.2 Teaching

The principal mode of knowledge delivery in Elizade University is teaching. Teaching takes place in various forms. It is important for each student to understand what is expected of him or her. First, each student should understand these basic concepts associated with teaching and learning.

Programme: By a programme we mean the whole degree course, for example CSC in Computer Science.

Module: This refers to one of the units that a course of study has been divided into, each of which can be studied separately in the semester. The lecture method is commonly used to present the content of each module. Typically, lectures are given by a lecturer or professor to the entire class. By class we mean the group of students enrolled for a particular course. Lectures are often given at great speed with very little time for fully worked examples. If handouts are provided, they usually give the students an overview and rarely cover the material in depth. Although attendance at lecture is strictly monitored, it is unwise for any student to assume that he or she can fully understand the content of the module from written source alone.

Exercise Classes: Many modules have exercise classes to support the lectures. Here, the students have the opportunity to work some examples and some problems under the watchful eyes of a demonstrator or supervisor. From experience, it is during such exercise classes that students discover that they do not understand the course content as well as they had thought. Working on small assignment is the only way to turn passive knowledge absorbed in the lectures into active knowledge; that is, such knowledge that will allow the student to do well in the exams and in the workplace in the future.

Tutorials: The holding of tutorial classes is considered an important aspect of teaching in each course. A course of 2 units is expected to be accompanied by at least one hour of tutorials. A tutorial is a gathering where a small group of students meet with a tutor or lecturer to discuss the weekly assignment. Attendance of tutorials is closely monitored.

Academic Advisers: The University runs an academic advisory scheme which assigns every new student to a course adviser. This arrangement gives each student the opportunity to discuss any aspect of his/her studies with fellow students and the member of staff so designated as the Course Adviser. While the University will normally make suggestions to course adviser, the idea is that a student should feel free to raise any topic he/she does not fully understand in any of the modules. The Course Adviser can also take the initiative of directing a student to the counseling unit, when necessary.

3.3 Learning

In order to be successful, a student should understand the difference between the different schedule events and how to use them most effectively. The principles highlighted below will help you to get the best:

- 1) Be an active learner. Many students often find the lectures in University radically different from the experience in the sixth form or a college. There is, therefore a tendency to assume that attendance at lectures require little more than their physical presence. Without active participation, a student will achieve very little. The following guidelines will help you to be an active learner.
 - i). Take notes, especially of any examples that the lecturer may write on the board.
 - ii). Ask questions when your understanding begins to lag. Most lecturers are grateful when challenged in this way. It livens up the delivery and new insights might be gained.
 - iii). Don't be late for a lecture or you may miss some important information that sets the whole lecture in context.
 - iv). Don't sit in the back if there are still places further to the front.
 - v). Set aside time every week to go through your own notes and other lecture materials; amend your notes using text books or materials sourced from the internet.
 - vi). Read ahead of the class and work other examples on the topic. Photocopying the notes of other students will not help you in the long run.

- vii). Attempt all homework assignments. If you are stuck, discuss them with colleagues and others but ALWAYS FORMULATE THE ANSWER IN YOUR OWN WORDS. This will help you to avoid plagiarism.
- 2) Use the University library. All the recommended textbooks for each course are kept in the library. You are also likely to find model answers to some questions. The library is also a place where a group of students can brainstorm to find solution to a common assignment provided, they can keep their voices down.
- 3) Develop a Personal Timetable. A personal timetable will help you to use your time wisely and to remain focused. The timetable should normally reflect the periods allocated to the reading of different subjects, working on assignments and of course relaxation. Relaxation has been proven to be necessary for the brain to absorb and properly organize new information.
- 4) Use Feedback Proactively. Oftentimes, students bemoan their low marks and cast their test scripts into the dust bin. Such attitude is self-defeating. Instead, you should read the lecturers comments on your work carefully and ask yourself a number of questions that can help to improve your performance.

3.4 Requirements for Admission

GETTING STARTED/THE APPLICATION PROCESS

The application process for admission to EU provides you with the opportunity to share information about yourself that goes beyond transcripts and test scores. Your application is reviewed by the Office of the Registrar/Admissions as well as the Dean superintending the relevant degree programme, to not only assess your academic achievement and standardized test scores, but to evaluate the curricular rigour of your academic history, your leadership potential, the depth of your participation in extracurricular activities and your overall interest in attending EU.

APPLICATION GUIDELINES

To assist the Office of the Registrar in the review of applications, candidates are encouraged to submit a "complete" application package. Meaning, they should submit the application, fees, transcripts and all other documentation listed below at one time.

The submission of a complete application package will ensure that all credentials and supporting documents are matched efficiently, thus leading to a quicker turnaround for the admissions and the review processes.

Below are the general application guidelines as well as the guidelines for specific populations of students.

1. Complete application package
2. Application Fees
3. Transcripts
4. Letter of recommendation
5. 250-word minimum personal statement
6. Official copy of SAT/'A' Level or equivalent
7. Official copy of TOEFL if English is not student's native language
8. Evidence of financial support

Please note, if you are not able to submit a "complete" application package, you should attempt to:

Send in your credentials as quickly as possible to avoid delaying the review of your application.

Include your name and your date of birth on the top of each page of a separate credential that you are submitting to the Admissions Office.

Note: PLEASE DO NOT FAX DOCUMENTS. Applications will not be reviewed until the Registrar's Office receives all official documentation. This can be done by sending them to the University email – admissions@elizadeuniversity.edu.ng

NOTIFICATION OF ADMISSION DECISION

Please note: the Office of the Registrar utilizes a blend of media channels to communicate with students including: traditional mailings through Postal Service, e-mail and telephone outreach. Please be sure to check all addresses and points of contact for messages from the Office of the Registrar and other Enrollment Officers.

ACCEPTANCE

Students will be notified of the admissions decision including the programme of study if admitted, shortly after all the necessary documents (application, official transcript(s) and official test score report) are received. Students admitted on or before April 1st for the fall semester are required to indicate their intent to enroll no later than May 1st. Students admitted after April 1st for the fall semester, are required to indicate their intent to enroll by the date indicated on their offer of admission. Students must indicate their intent to enroll by submitting evidence of payment of the non-refundable University acceptance fee (cheque or money order); the acceptance fee may vary for some programmes of study. Please refer to the offer of admission for the exact amount required. Students with questions about the required deposit should contact the Office of the Registrar for assistance.

DENY

Student not offered admission to their primary choice of study will be evaluated automatically for alternative choice majors and may be evaluated for admission to PAS (Programme for Academic Success). Students not admitted to the University are strongly encouraged to pursue other academic options and welcome to reapply for a future term.

WAIT LIST

In some cases, depending on space availability, the Office of the Registrar may offer candidate a place on a Wait List. EU Wait List decision is neither an offer of admission nor a decision to deny admission. The Wait List indicates that the student will be notified, generally after May 1st, if space has become available in the program of choice. Students offered a place on the Wait List will be given the opportunity to indicate an alternate choice of programme, if not listed on the application, for admission review. Admission to the alternate choice of review is not guaranteed. If a student is admitted to the alternate choice, they will no longer be eligible for admission to the original choice of major and taken off the Wait List for that programme.

Student who elects to remain on the Wait List will be notified about the status of the Wait List not later than July 1st; if students are placed on the Wait List after July 1st the Office of the Registrar will notify students of their status not later than August 15th.

In the event that space is not available, the Office of the Registrar will notify students and provide the students the opportunity to select an alternative major. Admission to an alternative choice of major is not guaranteed.

DEFERRING AND REACTIVATING

Students admitted for a current/active semester may elect to enroll in a future term. In order to qualify for a deferral or reactivation, students must:

- Be admitted
- Not have already attended a class/course for semester admitted
- Indicated prior to the start of the semester the student wishes to enroll for a future semester
- Student deferring should have matriculated, paid the non-refundable acceptance fee and paid the session tuition in full or in half (for 1 semester) in order to retain his/her studentship

- Students who wish to “defer” are not intending to enroll in courses at any other college or University. Deferred students will be moved to a future term without re-evaluation of academic record.
- Reactivated students are requesting that their application be moved to a future term for consideration. However, admission for that future term is not guaranteed. Often students electing to enroll at another college or University for the interim between original admit term and future intended enrollment term are considered “reactivated” students. Reactivated applicants must submit all updated academic records for the re-evaluation process.

NEW STUDENT ENROLLMENT

Once students have completed the commitment process to enroll at EU, they are required to complete several steps that will prove useful for a seamless transition to the University community. The following outlines the New Student Enrollment process:

Once the acceptance fee and tuition deposit/intent to enroll is received students will receive a New Student Enrollment Guide that outlines important “next steps” and enrollment information.

International students are required to pay a deposit in order to receive their EU Letter. Once students receive their EU Letter released by the Registrar, they are able to begin the process of obtaining a visa to study in Nigeria.

Students are required to submit all final official transcripts (high school and/or college transcripts) prior to enrolling in the fall

Students may also be required to submit additional information or meet admissions conditions (some conditions may require completion through the student's first semester or first year of study). It is the student's responsibility to follow through with completing their admission/enrollment conditions. Failure to do so may impact future term registration.

Students are required to complete and return health and immunization forms to the University Medical Centre.

Readmission to EU

Students who have interrupted their studies for a semester are required to file a readmission application to the University Senate through the Office of the Registrar. This application should be presented at least one month before the beginning of the semester that the student wishes to enter. Readmitted students must fulfill graduation requirements to reflect the year of readmission.

Probationary students who withdrew from the University and are applying for readmission must have the approval of the University Senate.

Visiting Students

Students attending and in good standing at other accredited universities who wish to enroll at EU may apply as Visiting Students (non-matriculated). Inquiries should be directed to the Office of the Registrar. Admission as a Visiting Student does not imply admission to a degree program at EU, and Visiting Students are not eligible to receive EU financial aid. Visiting Students who wish to pursue a degree at EU must apply at the Office of the Registrar.

Undergraduate programmes of the University have different durations as provided for in the NUC Minimum Academic Standards. The durations are:

The minimum pass mark is 45% (D) for all courses offered in the University, except in selected professional courses where the pass mark is 50% (C). A student repeats a course in which he/she fails to obtain the minimum pass grade so as to be used in the computation of his/her CGPA. Other undergraduate graduation requirements are:

3.11 Time Tabling, Contact Hours and General Academic Regulations

Semester System and Course Credit System

The University operates the semester system for its academic programmes. Each academic session comprises two semesters and each semester lasts for a period of eighteen (18) weeks consisting of one (1) week for registration, fifteen (15) weeks for lectures and two (2) weeks for examination. One week of lectures consist of 40 hours of classroom and/or laboratory activities. Teaching and laboratory activities start daily at 8.00 a.m. and end by 5.00 p.m. with a lunch break in the afternoon.

The first semester normally begins in mid-October each year and ends in February of the following year. The second semester begins in early March and ends in the first week of July, except approved special academic calendar for some professional courses due to their peculiarities in training. The schedule of the academic year of the University is as follows:

Semester	Registration	Lectures	Examination	Total
1 st Semester	1 week	15 weeks	2 weeks	18 weeks
Semester Break				2 weeks
2 nd Semester	1 week	15 weeks	2 weeks	18 weeks
Long Vacation				14 weeks
Total				52 weeks

Elizade University, in line with NUC guidelines, also operates the course credit system. One credit unit is defined as one hour of lecture or tutorial per week per semester and its equivalents are: two hours of seminar; six hours of laboratory practicals in the school and external field work, clinical practice/practicum, clinical laboratory posting, or studio practice; six hours of teaching practice; and one week of industrial attachment. The following guidelines also apply.

(a) Grade Point Average (GPA)

Performance in any semester is reported in Grade Point Average (GPA). This is the average of the weighted grade points earned in the courses taken during the semester. The Grade Point Average is obtained by multiplying the Grade Point obtained in each course by the number of credit units assigned to that course, and then summing these up and dividing by the total number of credit units taken for the semester.

(b) Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA)

Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) is the up-to-date means of the Grade Points earned by the student in a programme of study. It is an indication of the student’s overall performance at any point in the training programme. To compute the CGPA, the total Grade Points multiplied by the respective Credit Units for all the semester are added and then divided by the total number of credit units for all courses registered by the student. The course grading system for Elizade University is as follows:

Credit Unit(s)	Percent Scores	Letter Grades	Grade Point (GP)	Grade Point Average (GPA)	Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA)
(i)	(ii)	(iii)	(iv)	(v)	(vi)
Vary according to contact per week/semester and workload.	70 – 100	A	5	Derived by multiplying (i) by (iv) and dividing the sum by the total credit units.	4.50 – 5.00
	60 – 69	B	4		3.50 – 4.49
	50 – 59	C	3		2.40 – 3.49
	45 – 49	D	2		1.50 – 2.39
	40 – 44	E	1		1.00 - 1.49
	0 - 39	F	0	<1.00

(c) Continuous Assessment

A system of continuous assessment is used for every course and contributes 40% of the total score for each course. Continuous Assessment for students is by means of term papers, frequent tests (formal and informal), assessment in workshop/laboratory/studio/field/clinic/assignments, etc. as may be applicable to respective disciplines. For effective implementation of the course credit system and the continuous assessment scheme, each academic department is provided with essential tools for information storage, retrieval and analysis in the form of micro-computers, along with relevant software.

(d) Class Attendance

Class Attendance is considered very important. Any student who does not record up to 75% attendance is not qualified to take examination in that course.

(e) External Examiners

The University normally utilises external examiners to review the final year undergraduate courses and projects so as to verify the quality of programmes. However, external examiners required for examinations at various levels for the degree programmes in the different professions are utilised by the University.

(f) Failed Courses

Students are required to carry forward failed courses. Students who carry forward courses are to register for those courses first at the next opportunity before registering for the next level of courses for which passes in the failed courses are prerequisites for registration.

(g) Course Coding

The University adopts a course numbering system that uses a prefixed three-letter code to identify the department offering the course followed by a three-digit number identifying the course. Odd-ended and even-ended numbers are used to identify first semester and second semester courses respectively. The University course numbering system is as follows:

Undergraduate Courses

100 Level: 101-199

200 Level: 201-299

300 Level: 301-399

400 Level: 401-499

500 Level: 501-599

600 Level: 601-699

(h) Staff to Students Ratios

To ensure the quality of teaching and learning in the University, the approved NUC minimum teacher to student ratios are adhered to. This guide, in addition to other NUC parameters, the number of academic staff to be employed by the University.

The ratios are as follow:

Arts	1:30
Social/Management Sciences	1:30
Science	1:20
Engineering	1:15
Law	1:30
Allied Health Sciences	1:10

(i) Student Industrial Work Experience Scheme (SIWES)

In view of the fact that industrial training is a component of the curricula and the graduation requirements of some degree programmes in the Nigeria University system, Elizade University has a Student Industrial Work Experience Scheme (SIWES) Unit, which coordinates and manages students' industrial training programme. The unit is headed by a Coordinator who is responsible for the day-to-day supervision of its activities. Students in relevant academic disciplines in the University are exposed to industrial training as an essential component of the curriculum in order to facilitate an understanding of the requirements and realities of the world of work as they are being trained in the University so that at the end of their studies, they would fit in comfortably and productively into work situations. The industrial training scheme has the following objectives:

- i) to facilitate students' understanding of the different processes involved in the operations of a particular industrial organisation;
- ii) to facilitate students' understanding, the job ethics, professional norms and the system of communication and control in an organisation setting;
- iii) to promote student's acquisition of the requisite skills for efficient operation in a given organisational setting; and
- iv) to afford students the opportunity to put into practice concepts and principles, already taught in the practical solution of real problems.

In respect of relevant programmes, students are to undergo a minimum of 12-weeks and a maximum of 24-weeks industrial training at a stretch (depending on programme) during the third year of study. Students on industrial training are under the tutelage of both external and internal supervisors. External supervisors are those experts in the industrial establishment where students train, while internal supervisors are expert staff from the academic departments of the University. At the end of the programme, students' log books, confidential reports and supervisors' reports are to be returned to the Coordinator for evaluation. Similarly, students' reports are to be submitted to the department for grading. The University also has the Students Internship Programme where all students irrespective of their programme of study, are made to work during the long vacation for a minimum of six weeks or half of the holiday period.

3.12 Student Workload

An undergraduate full-time student of the University is required to register for a minimum of fifteen (15) credit units and a maximum of twenty-four (24) credit units per semester.

The minimum total workload expected to be covered for the award of undergraduate qualification of the University is:

- i) a minimum of 120 credit units' four-year degree programme; and
- ii) a minimum of 150 credit units for a five-year degree programme.

3.13 Courses and Course Descriptions

There are four categories of courses for the undergraduate degree programmes of Elizade University, namely:

- i) General Studies Courses: which enhance students' capacities in various fields of study, namely; Communication skills, Arts and Humanities, Social and Behavioural Sciences and Natural Sciences;
- ii) Major Courses (Core Courses): these are mandatory courses in the students' main field of study. These account for not less than 70% of credits earned;
- iii) Required Courses: these are compulsory courses in related or relevant fields and contributes not less than 15% of total credits earned; and
- iv) Elective Courses: these are non-mandatory courses outside the student's major field of study designed to give the students basic principles of all major fields of knowledge as they exist in inter-relationship. These account for not more than 10% of total credits earned.

The details of the courses and their descriptions for the undergraduate programmes of the University are contained in Volume II of the Academic Brief and the Faculty Handbook.

3.14 Requirements for Students Probation, Transfer and Withdrawal

(1) Probation for Students

Students placed on probation are those whose academic performance, measured by the Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA), fall below 1.00 at the end of a Semester. Such students are to register for the courses failed as well as some courses from the next level provided the total credit load taken does not exceed the maximum allowed. A student whose CGPA falls below 1.00 at the end of a probation period is required to withdraw from the programme of study without prejudice to being admitted into another programme in the University.

(2) Withdrawal of Students

Such a student is given the opportunity to defend himself/herself, but shall not be readmitted to the University at any other time if expelled.

3.15 Transfer of Student

A student may be considered for transfer from another University in Nigeria to Elizade University at 200 or 300 level of a similar programme for a 4-year or 5-6year programme respectively, provided the candidate has attained a CGPA of not less than 2.5.

3.16 Academic Worries

There are times a student may feel so confused and extremely anxious about a particular course. With time, such a student could lose interest in his studies and may eventually be asked to withdraw from the University on the ground of poor performance. The warning signs would have been there but could have been ignored or misread. Below are some of the early warning signs and their popular interpretation.

- You stop attending classes because they are a waste of time. In reality, you find them frustrating because you can't solve any of the questions in the assignment.
- You stop attending certain lectures because they are boring! In reality, you can't follow what the lecturer is trying to explain.
- You stop submitting course work because they are not worth much for the final mark! In reality, you have fallen behind and have difficulty understanding even the questions.
- You stop coming to the weekly advisories because "not much is happening anyway"! In reality, you can't take part in the group discussions because you don't understand enough, and you are embarrassed to be found out.

- You stop reading your email because “none of the messages are of any importance”! In reality, you are afraid of reading a message that asks you for a meeting with the Class Adviser.
- You stop reading a particular difficult course because there is still time to work through this in detail during revision time! In reality, revision time is too short even for a bright student to pick up completely new material.

Any student that finds himself/herself in any of this position should first speak to the course lecturer or class advisers. It is important to realize that the more a student falls behind, the harder it is to get back on track. Only the course lecturer can suggest the best strategy of recovery. A course or module has general topics or relatively independent parts. The lecturer is able to suggest a point where the student can make a fresh start. Where necessary, additional tutorials can be arranged to help those in this category.

Oftentimes, it also helps to discuss the problem with your friends and colleagues. You may discover that you are not alone in this predicament. As quickly as possible, bring the problem to the attention of the course lecturer. It is often difficult for a lecturer to assess the level of understanding of the students in a very large class. Any doubt or misunderstanding that may arise during the course of a lecture should be pointed out, as the lecturer would be grateful if informed that the lecture delivery is too fast.

3.17 Academic Advisers

Each student is assigned to a member of staff who would be the academic adviser throughout the duration of his/her study. In order to improve the level of interpersonal relationship and to provide additional help with the academic content of the courses, the Faculty organizes weekly meetings between the Advisers and the students in the first semester. These are sometimes referred to as advisories. In such meetings, the advisers interact with the small group of students (the advisees) and encourage group discussions on questions arising from the various modules. All academic advisers have scheduled office hours during which they are available to see the advisees. Such contact hours are usually posted on the University web site or on the door of the Adviser. During the second year, each student is still required to meet with the Adviser. Self-assessment forms will be used as basis for progress meetings from this stage. Each student is expected to fill this midway into each semester. In the last week of each academic year, there will be a Progressive Review Tutorial to receive advice on the outcome of the examinations.

CAREER BOARD

The University has a Career Board which includes the representative of Government and other employment agencies. The terms of reference are:

Students are required to take oath and sign the declaration as a commitment that they would observe all the rules and regulations of the University. After the matriculation, students sign the matriculation register that contains the names and matriculation numbers serially arranged by departments in alphabetical order. No official student document may be regarded as complete or valid unless it carries the correct matriculation numbers and use these numbers on all official transactions including payment of school fees. A student retains the matriculation number even if he/she changes faculty or course of study. Any student who attempts to obtain a second matriculation number or is in possession of double matriculation number would be subject to the University discipline procedure.
